VILLA TAMAYO

The essence of San Miguel, ready to welcome you.

Villa Tamayo bears the signature of renowned architect Juan Carlos Valdés, who has built more than 450 homes in San Miguel de Allende. Its Spanish colonial style speaks through every material: stone walls, carved cantera, wood beams and a brick vault that follows you through the home.

Living room, dining room and inner courtyard flow naturally, bathed in the warm light of the Bajío. On the covered terrace with its wet bar, afternoons come with views of the city and its Parroquia.

Below the house, an underground area prepared as a wine cellar awaits your collection. All within the private Villas Acuarela community, a few minutes' walk from the Jardín Principal, parks, restaurants and shops.
